

All types of nuclear weapon components have experienced aging problems.

Non-nuclear components have accounted for 79% of age-related actionable finding types.

960-