

<HTML>

<HEAD>

<TITLE> Loch Lomond</TITLE>

</HEAD>

<BODY>

<P></P>

<P> <H1>Loch Lomond</H1>

The A82 road runs along the side of Loch Lomond giving spectacular views across the Loch to the hills of Ben Lomond.

Atom bombs are regularly transported along this route. The picture shows one nuclear weapon transporter and a police outrider.

</P>

</BODY>

</HTML>

NUCLEAR

behind the wire: the secrets of Britain's biggest atom bomb base revealed today in a guided tour.

an independent arms race: the numbers of atom bombs being built in Britain today, the future plans, and who they could be used against.

15 minutes to midnight: the current deployment of Britain's nuclear submarines.

how to stop a nuclear submarine: spectacular and less dramatic ways to stop the nuclear arms race, including petition to sign.

billions to burn: the cost of the British Trident programme, who pays the bill and what else we could get for our money.

the next Chernobyl: information on nuclear power, its risks and campaigning against it.

Scotland - nuclear free or a desert: the nuclear threat to Scotland and the campaign for a nuclear free Scotland.

join here: support the Scottish Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament.

Contents a detailed list of pages

Links a list of useful links

This page is maintained by cdscot@servelan.co.uk

<HTML>

<HEAD>

NUCLEAR

</HEAD>

<BODY>

<P>

behind the wire: the secrets of Britain's biggest atom bomb base revealed today in a guided tour.

</P>

<P>

an independent arms race: the numbers of atom bombs being built in Britain today, the future plans, and who they could be used against.

</P>

<P>

15 minutes to midnight: the current deployment of Britain's nuclear submarines.

</P>

<P>

how to stop a nuclear submarine: spectacular and less dramatic ways to stop the nuclear arms race, including petition to sign.

</P>

<P>

billions to burn: the cost of the British Trident programme, who pays the bill and what else we could get for our money.

</P>

<P>

the next Chernobyl: information on nuclear power, its risks and campaigning against it.

</P>

<P>

Scotland - nuclear free or a desert: the nuclear threat to Scotland and the campaign for a nuclear free Scotland.

</P>

<P>

join here: support the Scottish Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament.

<address>This page is maintained by cnscot@servedan.co.uk

</address>

</BODY>

</HTML>

<HTML>

<HEAD>

NUCLEAR BEHIND THE WIRE

</HEAD>

<BODY>

<P>

Most of Britain's nuclear weapons are based in Scotland only 6 miles (10 kms) from Loch Lomond, one of the most scenic areas in the country. There are two massive bases side by side, the military own about 10 square miles of the area. Could be a maze of bunkers where missiles and their nuclear warheads are handled. Faslane is a naval port where the submarines are maintained.

</P>

<P>

Trident Special Area: where Trident nuclear warheads are stored

</P>

<P>

Explosives Handling Jetty: a floating jetty where warheads are loaded onto Trident submarines

</P>

<P>

Polaris Area: where Polaris missiles and their warheads are handled.

</P>

<P>

Faslane shiplift: intended to lift a nuclear submarine clear of the water for maintenance.

</P>

Faslane base: the base has numerous berths for submarines.

</P>

<P>

accidents: a list of serious accidents and incidents

</P>

</BODY>

</HTML>

<HTML>

<HEAD> NUCLEAR </HEAD> <BODY>

<P> behind the wire: the secrets of Britain's bi bomb base revealed in a guided tour.

</P>
<P> an independent arms race: the numbers of atom bomb being built in Britain today, the future plans, and who they could be used again

</P>
<P>
15 minutes to midnight: the current deployment o nuclear submarines.

</P>
<P>
how to stop a nuclear submarine: spectacular dramatic ways to stop the nuclear arms race, including petition to sign.

</P>
<P> billions to burn: the cost of the British Trident who pays the bill and what else we could get for our money.

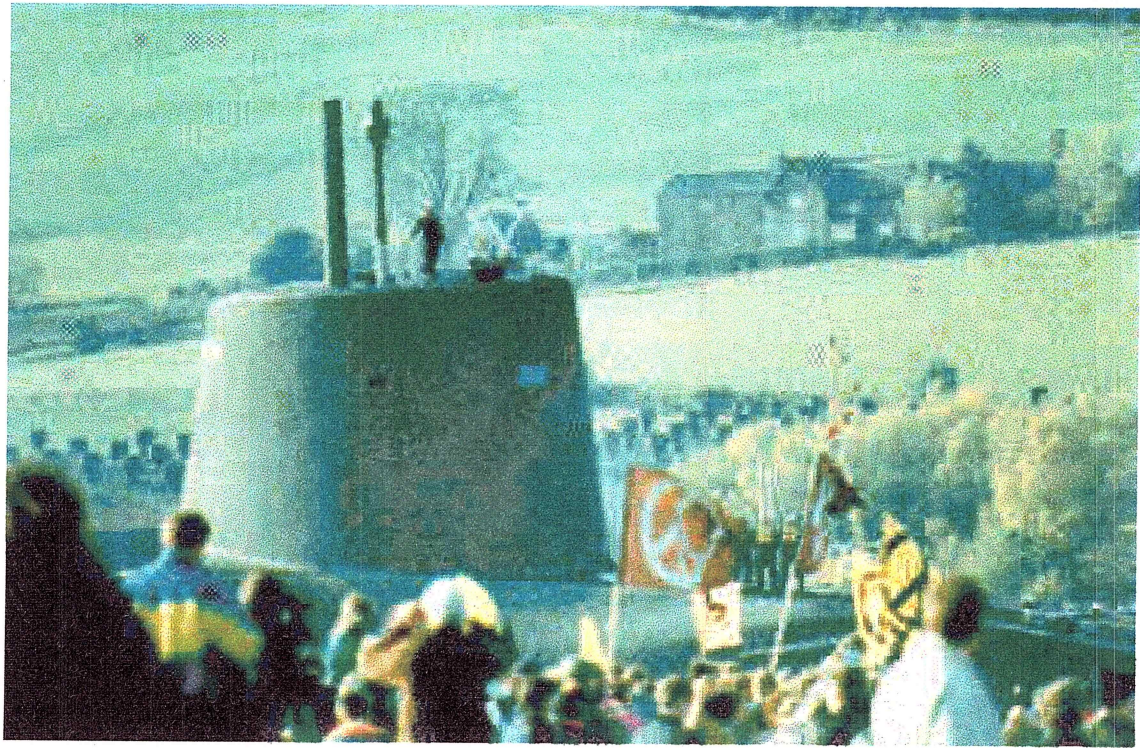

</P>
<P>
the next Chernobyl: information on nuclear powe and campaigning against it.

</P>
<P>
Scotland - nuclear free or a desert: the nuc
Scotland and the campaign for a nuclear free Scotland.

</P>
<P>
join here: support the Scottish Campaign for Nuc Disarmament.

<address>This page is maintained by cnscot@servedan.co.uk
</address>

</BODY>
</HTML>

NUCLEAR

behind the wire: the secrets of Britain's biggest atom bomb base revealed in a guided tour.

an independent arms race: the numbers of atom bombs being built in Britain today, the future plans, and ~~who they could be used against~~. the cold 15 minutes to midnight: the current deployment of Britain's nuclear submarines.

"If we dare break out of the mindset that has guided the nuclear strategy of the nuclear powers for over four decades, I believe we can indeed "put the genie back in the bottle". If we do not, there is a substantial risk that the 21st century will witness a nuclear holocaust"

Robert S McNamara,

Atomia ~~Top~~ Secrets UK Eyes Only -

Banning the bomb

Cost of Trident

NUCLEAR

behind the wire: the secrets of Britain's biggest atom bomb base revealed in a guided tour.

an independent arms race: the numbers of atom bombs being built in Britain today, the future plans, and who they could be used against.

15 minutes to midnight: the current deployment of Britain's nuclear submarines.

how to stop a nuclear submarine: spectacular and less dramatic ways to stop the nuclear arms race, including petition to sign.

billions to burn: the cost of the British Trident programme, who pays the bill and what else we could get for our money.

the next Chernobyl: information on nuclear power, its risks and campaigning against it.

Scotland - nuclear free or a desert: the nuclear threat to Scotland and the campaign for a nuclear free Scotland.

join here: support the Scottish Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament.
This page is maintained by cndscot@servedan.co.uk

CA. nae = " " > < /A

CAURER = " " # > < /A >